

Join Hands On Atlanta Day
To make Northwood Elementary an Even BETTER Place to Learn!

Grab your family, friends or co-workers and come out to Northwood for Atlanta's largest day of community service!

On Sat. Oct. 3, 9:00-1:00, we'll be sprucing up Northwood Elementary as part of the celebration of the 20th anniversary of Hands On Atlanta.

With presenting sponsor GE Energy, Hands On Atlanta Day has grown to be one of the largest days of volunteerism in the country, mobilizing more than 10,000 volunteers in service projects throughout metro-Atlanta. Hands On Atlanta Day volunteers will renovate public schools (that's us!), take part in environmental projects, make much needed repairs to seniors' homes, and so much more.

This year at Northwood, we'll be landscaping the empty area where the trailers were removed, as well as spreading pine straw around plantings.

We need your help! Please bring work gloves, water, sunscreen and your favorite garden tool (be sure to label your tools). We could always use an extra broom, shovel, weed eater, dirt rake, or garden tool. No special experience is needed, just your enthusiasm!

There are also other ways to help this effort. We need volunteers to bring refreshments and water to fuel our workers that day. We could use any hardy landscape plants that need a new home or monetary contributions to help buy bushes, pine straw and other supplies.

Let's show how much a group of enthusiastic volunteers can accomplish to make Northwood an even better place to learn on October 3rd! To help in any way, simply fill out the form below.
